Workshop:

"Music to my ears: The importance of the Film Score"

Come listen to Owen Dara, accomplished singer, musician and songwriter, share his story of how his love for music led him on a journey into the art of filmmaking. As the winner of the 2013 Laughlin International Film Festival's "Best Soundtrack" award for the film "Choosing Signs", we have invited him back this year to share his experiences and insights into how music plays a very important role in the filmmaking process.

6:00 – 8:00 PM

(at the theater)

Special Film Screening: "Choosing Signs"

After listening to Owen Dara tell about his experience with music and film, there will be a special screening of his film "Choosing Signs", which he wrote, directed, edited, scored, and starred in. "Choosing Signs" is a charming romantic comedy about an American woman who follows the signs from the Universe all the way to Ireland, only to discover that when it comes to love the Universe may not always be on her side. The film features 13 songs which Owen wrote and performed.
